The world's greatest paintings and the most audacious art heists of all time. The series follows three gripping true stories of a global game of cat and mouse, as high culture meets the underworld. Munch's The Scream is ripped from a gallery wall in Oslo, a self-portrait of Rembrandt vanishes during a brutal robbery in Stockholm and two Turners disappear from Frankfurt. Each of these remarkable robberies sparks a high-stakes international hunt across the world from London to Belgrade, meeting Serbian Warlords and gangsters in Hollywood.

'This brilliant documentary revisited the 1994 theft of two Turner paintings and presented it in the style of a glossy thriller'
